The presentation of the National Anthem 13 years ago was a proud moment for America... indeed. But, what happened? The message that I take away from this video is: How one "bad apple" left unattended can poison the barrel.

Colin Kaepernick is that "bad apple".